This theatre course provides an ideal creative and emotional balance to academic study.

We firmly believe in the tradition of educational theatre that not only identifies and enriches artistic talent but also enhances a student's confidence and personal worth. In these extra-curricular classes, students participate in a variety of group activities and learn the values of working in a team.

ACTIVITIES INCLUDE:

- Improvisation, which sharpens the senses and encourages the students to think quickly and creatively.
- Physical and vocal exercises, allowing students to release tension and train towards effective use of mind, body and voice.
- Script work, which promotes confidence in speaking aloud and hones memorization skills.
- Directing peers in short dramatic scenes, thus encouraging students to take on responsibility and further voice their creative ideas.

At the end of the academic year, students present a short public performance allowing them the chance to display the skills they have acquired.
